

CONVENTION SALT

by artist
Dave McDermott

The Newport 13th NOSC Convention Salt is a conch shell and is available in blue or opal; each one is unique. Not shown, but included in the price, is a glass spoon with a shell bowl handcrafted at McDermott Glass Studio.

Dave McDermott, the artist who created this convention salt, began working for Pairpoint Glass under the guidance of Robert Mason in 1973. He met his wife, Yukimi Matsumoto, at a seminar in Corning, NY in 1999. In addition to creating their unique original art glass design, they both paint, sculpt, and draw extensively. They worked together at Pairpoint for a brief time before opening McDermott Glass Studio in Sandwich, MA in 2002. Two other artists - Isabel Green and Bryan Randa - round out this creative studio at 272 Cotuit Road. For additional information and to view his gallery please visit , www.mcdermottglass.com.
